EXAMS

02/2022 (Sitting)	Exam FM – Financial Mathematics
--------------------------	---------------------------------

SKILLS

Leadership/Teamwork: As a member of different sports teams, I have learned that building synergy with my teammates is very effective for the success and growth of the team. Furthermore, I took on a responsibility of leaderships on those teams through communication and setting precedence for others to follow.

Communication: As a public speaker, I project my voice to my listeners, and portray my thoughts in a clear, easy to follow manner. While living in foreign speaking countries, I became very custom to reading body language, in attempt to understand the message. Those experiences helped me reflect on my own body language and become a well-rounded communicator.

Marketing: Through various business ventures, I became knowledgeable on many computer-based marketing strategies. Many of these took place on Facebook, through their advertisement program.

Computational: Excel Spreadsheets, C++
